Five-twenties in Europe.

The quotations of "Five-twenties," the form of American securities best known in Europe, often vary considerable in the different cities; and those of our readers who are not conversant with banking are puzzled to know why representatives of value, which are so easily transportable, and on which there are no impost forbidding exchange, should differ so greatly in value in cities which by railway and steam are only a day's journey apart, and in exchange telegraphic intelligence every hour. American securities, though sold by dollars and cents, are paid for in the coin of the country in which the transaction takes place, and between which and our money an old established and arbitrary equivalent is fixed. Thus it depends upon what the par rates between francs, florins, marks, roubles and pounds is as to whether the price of securities in those countries is high or low compared to that prevailing in New York. For instance: In London an American dollar is called 4s. 6d., and the nominal rate at which dollars would be exchanged into pounds or sovereigns would be $4 44 to £1—the banker's rate for transmuting dollars into sovereign or vice versa, corrected by the rate of exchange, etc., at the time, is $4 86. The difference is about 9 2-5 per cent. Therefore when American securities are quoted in London in a form which requires buyers to give 4s. 6d. for dollars, when the real value of the American coin and sovereigns is $4 86 to £1, it necessarily makes the bond the buyer is purchasing appear to be of more value than it really is. The effect of this on the quotations is just the opposite—the public knowing that dollars are only worth some 4s. 1½d. do not give any more pounds for 500 of these nominal dollars than they would for 500 other dollars, and they are apparently sold at just as much additional depreciation as the difference between $4 86 and $4 44. On the 4th of January, Five-twenties were quoted in London at 73¼; but if dollars were reckoned at $4 86, they would have been quoted in the Stock Exchange list at about 79½. If a passenger leaving New York in December had sold 100 sovereigns at $4 86, and laid out that American gold in Five-twenties at 70, gold quotation, he would have obtained $692 worth. If he had taken them to London and sold them on January 4th, at 73½, on the basis of 4s. 6d. to the dollar, he would receive £112 9s. 6d. for his investment originally purchased for 100 sovereigns, though the difference between the nominal quotations at which he bought and sold would only promise him £104 8s. 3d. But there are discrepancies in prices between the European cities which cannot be accounted for in this way. At the end of November Five-twenties were quoted in Frankfort at 74½, while on the same day in London they were not worth more than 70½. The ebb and flow of exchanges between the various cities might affect prices 1 or 2 per cent., but the chief reason why in one day the telegraph reported Five-twenties in Hamburg 68, in London 70½, in Frankfort 73¾ and in Berlin 75½, was that in one place they were dealing in the issue of 1861 and in another in the issue of 1862. And the difference in the periods at which the interest becomes due, and other causes, makes the former sought after some times at an advance on the latter issue of 1¼ to 2½ per cent. In reviewing European quotations, therefore, it is necessary to know whether it is the bonds of '61 or '62 which are quoted. The telegraphic quotations from London are always 1862: but in the Stock Exchange circulars both are mentioned, and the difference between the extreme high price of one and the extreme low price of the other has been, as on November 21st, 4¾. So that though on the day named the Hamburg quotation was 68 and Berlin 75½, the average rate of Hamburg was only 1¼ below the lowest point which issue 1862 touched in London, and the average rate of Berlin was only ¼ per cent. above the highest price obtained in London on that day for issue 1861.—S. F. Bulletin, Jan. 7th.

A BANKRUPT.—J. H. Anderso, the "Wizard of the North," took the benefit of the Bankrupt Act, at Birmingham, on the 19th of November last. The examination before the Commissioner was of a rather extraordinary and amusing character. He was examined as to the tricks which "took" best, but on this point the Professor was extremely reticent.

A gentleman was promenading a street in Weston, with a bright little boy at his side, when the little fellow exclaimed:

"Oh, pa, there goes an editor!"

"Hush, my son," said the father, "don't make sport of the poor man, God only knows what you may come to yet."

THE PATTIS.—Carlotta Patti asks £120 to sing at a concert; yet, notwithstanding this somewhat high tariff, is in great demand. The Patti family are a dynasty of artists. It is said that there is a younger sister who bids fair to outshine Adelina, and a brother who is a magnificent tenor.

RISTORI PICTURED.—A florid New York critic says of Ristori's acting: "Her lips curl back from her teeth in a white horror, and she seems to lap Creusa's blood with delicious joy." The sum and substance of all this is, that Ristori must have been grinning.

NO GO.—A song, produced at the theatre in Mobile a few weeks since, was hissed, on account of the expression of a hope that the North and South would live in peace and harmony hereafter.

FRENCH newspaperdom, before the new Minister's arrival, is attempting to make of General Dix a lion. One paper boldly says: "The man who is evidently to be the lion of the winter season is General Dix."

M. FREYDORFF, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Baden, has just been married to Mlle. Cornberg, an actress, known in the theatrical world under the name of Mlle. Thorne.

THEY say that Boucicault has made $75,000 out of Arrah na Pogue, in Paris. We don't believe a word of it; it's too much.

THE friends of Robinson, the circus rider, have given him a pitcher. He is a tumbler himself, says the New York World.

FORTY per cent. of the young ladies of Summerfield, Alabama, were married the other night.

A SCHEME is discussed in Paris for the erection of a monster hotel, to contain five thousand rooms.

A SCIENTIFIC spectator says the Minnesota winters are growing milder.

Salt Lake City, November 5, 1866.

The Tax on Knowledge in Utah.

The telegraph from time to time informs us that Congress is engaged in the consideration of measures relative to Utah Territory. Surely, it is greatly to be hoped that it will not entirely forget the wants of this far off region, and that in its efforts to remedy existing evils will be guided by a wise and practical statesmanship. Whatever may be the opinions of the friends and opponents of the Mormon religion, as practically exemplified in Utah, there is one point upon which there should be little or no difference among Gentiles and the great mass of the Mormon people. We refer to a little section of law passed March 25th, 1864, virtually excluding newspapers, pamphlets, magazines and other reading matter from the people. Under its operation all printed matter between the Missouri River and San Francisco is excluded from the mail bags unless full letter postage is prepaid, excepting only such matter as may come from the office of publication, to a single subscriber.

This law is not only an unjust tax on intelligence, but in its working is, to a great extent, an exclusion of the means of enlightenment from the Territory. All transient printed matter is practically excluded from the mails along the great overland route. In no other part of the United States does this harsh rule prevail. It has been a part of the declared policy of the Government to distribute newspapers and magazines broadcast over the land through the mails, at a merely nominal cost, and it has been an hundred fold repaid in the happiness and intelligence of the people secured thereby. But here in the interior of the continent is a Territory boasting of from 80,000 to 100,000 souls, who are in a measure deprived of a like privilege. A Territory, too, where the means of attaining correct information should be extended rather than repressed; where that most potent engine, the press, should have full, free and unrestrained sway.

As a part of the peculiar system of the Mormons, isolation from the rest of mankind and the exclusion of the civilization and enlightenment of the outside world have been the darling objects of the leaders. There are hundreds and thousands of the Mormon people who have never read other than the Church organ, the Deseret News, whose ideas of the Government; the people and institutions of the United States, are solely derived from that paper and the teachings of the priests and bishops. A large proportion came hither direct from Europe, passed rapidly through the States and across the Plains, and plunged into the isolated wilderness of Utah, under the domination and surveillance of the Church leaders.

The friends of progress and enlightenment, [illegible] have faith in enlightened the great [illegible] indulgence, and in the press, [illegible] never of the world's advancement. They believe that an intelligent people alone are able to throw off the bonds of superstition and error, and they ask Congress not to throw greater obstacles in the way. The family newspaper, the magazine, the pamphlet which find their way to the fireside, however humble, and to the family circle, work their passage into the hearts of the people, enlighten their understanding and tend greatly to make them men and women able and willing to think for themselves.

Let then the press, which does its work in a quiet yet enduring way, have full, free, unlimited scope. At this late day in the enlightened age in which we live, it is needless to dwell on the power of the press. But what we do say is, that Utah and her interests require that the channels and means of information should not be choked, but be thrown wide open. We are strong believers in the efficacy of education and intelligence to uproot superstition, bigotry and error. No enlightened people can long bow their necks patiently and submissively to the yoke of oppression, whether of kings, magistrates or priests.

We are not ignorant that the reason of the law referred to was that printed matter overloaded the mails, and it was supposed to be unjust to compel the contractor to transport such enormous weights on his coaches under the then existing contract. If the contractor had reason to complain (and we are not prepared to say he had not,) the true remedy should have been, not to exclude newspapers and reading matter from the people, but to make other provision for their transportation. A few paltry dollars is a mere bagatelle to the Government, when compared with the importance of disseminating correct information and the means of intelligence among the people of Utah. The discrimination made against this Territory in this matter is not only unjust, but impolitic on the part of the Government, and we trust that Congress will not hesitate to repeal the odious law referred to. If, as we contend, the system of Brigham Young is wrong; is founded in error, and is in conflict with the highest interests not only of the people of Utah, but of the United States, let in the light of correct information, and, in time at least, the darkness and error will pass away.

In no way can this be better or more surely accomplished than by fostering reading among the people. Let us have no tax upon intelligence. The great engines of the world's progress of which the Nineteenth century is so justly proud, are recognized to be the press, the mails, railroads, commerce, and the lightning.

The section of law referred to passed in 1864, and, as amended July 20th, 1865, reads as follows:

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That all mailable matter which may be conveyed by mail westward beyond the western boundary of Kansas and eastward of the eastern boundary of California, shall be subject to prepaid letter rates: Provided, however, that this section shall not be held to extend to the transmission by mail of newspapers [periodicals, magazines and exchanges] from known offices of publication to bona fide subscribers, or their agents, nor to prevent the sending to such subscribers from any one office [illegible]

By Pacific Telegraph.

New York, January 17.

Wheat dull and drooping; sales of three million bushels at $2.15. Money closed easy.

Philadelphia, January 17.

A very severe snow storm; business almost suspended.

Chicago, January 17.

Very cold, but no snow.

London, Eng., January 17.

The Reform League is preparing another monster demonstration for the 11th of February.

Pesth, January 17.

The Hungarian Diet evinces a disposition to break off negotiations with the Austrian government, if the latter continues to oppose the wishes of Hungary.

Vienna, January 17.

The Presse to-day says that a large insurance has been effected at Hamburg on the personal effects of Maximilian, which are to be to shipped by steamer for Mexico.

Washington, January 17.

The Senate, by a vote of 20 to 15, took up the Niagara ship canal bill of last session. Edmunds moved to strike out the section providing that the Act shall not take effect without the Legislature of New York gives its assent within two years. Bill then made the special order for to-morrow.

Morrill reported back the bill to prevent illegal voting in the District of Columbia, and for other purposes, with amendments. The amendments provide for the appointment by the Supreme Court of the District, of five judges of election for the cities of Washington and Georgetown, whose duty it shall be, biennially and prior to each election, to prepare lists of the persons qualified to vote in those cities.

Lane called up the bill to regulate the appointment of pension agents.

Fessenden said he objected to the kind of legislation contained in the amendment vacating all offices filled since October 1st.

The Senate has now spent seven days on the bill regulating the tenure of office. McDougall to-day spoke against the bill.

Willey, of W. Va., pinned Cowan on some of the appointments lately made, whereupon Cowan said it was impossible, when so many appointments were to be made, to avoid accidental mistakes.

Hendricks replied to some former remarks of Sumner, and defended the President for removing from office men who opposed his policy, and placing in office men who sympathize with him. He said that in nine cases out of ten where the President had removed anybody, he had appointed in his place a man who voted the Lincoln & Johnson ticket in 1864. Alluding to the alleged remark of the President, that he would kick certain men out of office, he expressed doubt whether the President had used it, though he had not taken upon himself the task of reading all the addresses made by the President on his way to Chicago and back.

Conness reviewed the political [illegible] between the President and [illegible] differences the responsibility was [illegible] Congress, saying President, he [illegible] not with Congress. The himself [illegible] said, would not have restricted [illegible] to four thousand removals had not the Senate stood in the way.

Doolittle favored tenure of office during good behavior. The power of removal, whether lodged in the Senate or the Executive, was liable to abuse. As to the Philadelphia Convention and gentlemen who participated in it, he claimed for himself and those who voted with him, the most patriotic motives. He would not speak at length on this topic now, but at some future time expected to prove that the policy of the Administration was the policy of Lincoln, and from which the Republican party had departed.

Howe said that inasmuch as his colleague had spent a good deal of time in attempting to demonstrate that problem already, and as about two-thirds of the people had failed to see it, he did not think it would pay for him to try to demonstrate it any more.

House: In Committee of the Whole on Legislative Appropriation bill, Stevens offered an amendment as an additional section, extending to the Court of Claims the provisions of section 3d of the Act of July, 1864, which declares that in the Courts of the United States there shall be no exclusion of any witnesses on account of color, nor in civil actions because he is a party interested in issues tried. He said the Court of Claims had recently held that it was not a Court of the United States, and therefore the law did not apply to it. After a short discussion the amendment was agreed to.

The bill was then reported to the House, and, after some debate, rejected—51 to 57.

An amendment that no further appropriation shall be made for supplying complete setts of the Congressional Globe to members of any succeeding Congress, but providing that the United States will at the close of the present Congress purchase a complete sett of the work for each Senator, Representative, and Delegate, was adopted by a vote of 84 to 56.

The clause appropriating $40,000 for facilitating telegraphic communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, was stricken out.

The clause appropriating $10,000 for collecting statistical information in regard to the mineral resources of the Northwestern States, was defeated.

The amendment making an appropriation for increased compensation to the clerks and employees of the House, was adopted; and the bill then passed.

The Committee on Printing were instructed to consider the expediency of providing for official reports of the proceedings of Congress, by reporters chosen by each House, and for their publication at the Government printing office.

Washington, January 17.

During the past year about $133,000 were deposited in the Treasury by the Patent Office after paying all the expenses of the office. This makes the total amount now on credit to the Patent Office nearly $300,000.

The receipts from customs for the week ending January 12, was $3,394,465. This shows considerable increase over receipts for some time past, owing, probably, to the new tariff, the disposition being to pay all duties before any changes are made, particularly in cases where duties will be increased by the provisions of the new bill.

New York, January 17.

Havana advices of the 12th state that the small-pox still continues. At Matanzas there were over 300 cases under treatment. There had been fifty deaths in one day, about 48 per cent. of the cases terminating fatally.

The financial crisis at Havana was about over.

Mexican advices, via Havana, to December 31st, state that the intervention of the United States in favor of Juarez has induced many hitherto against the Emperor, to declare for him. A large number of families will follow the retiring French troops, fearing wanton excess by guerrillas. The abandonment of Guadalajara is regarded as [illegible] and its occupation by the [illegible] under Miramon was expected. Marguess would soon commence the campaign against the Liberals in the Valley of Mexico. Porfirio Diaz is reported to have been defeated in two engagements in the State of Oaxaca, and had been compelled to evacuate the city of that name.

New York, January 18.

A furious wind storm prevailed throughout the night, and the snow here drifted in some places eight feet deep.

The excise law will be enforced according to its full and strict interpretation to-day and hereafter.

John H. Grauf, a lawyer, has been arrested on a charge of forgery, to obtain back pay of a deceased soldier.

The Herald's Richmond correspondent says the people of the South have made up their minds to shake off the inaction of the last few months and take hold of vital questions with vigor.

Information received here from different sources, official and otherwise, leads to the conclusion that the majority of the western Indian tribes are now on the war path ready for war, plunder or extermination, against the whites, and quite a number of speculators have gone to Omaha and other western cities, expecting to be able to secure contracts for furnishing supplies to the troops which are being sent to the frontier.

Chicago, January 18.

Mexican advices include the circular issued by Marshal Bazaine, authoritatively announcing his intention to send the French troops home and giving the details of preparation.

A Washington special gives a rumor that David Dudley Field will be appointed Minister to England, and Adams will enter the Cabinet.

House—The debate on Stevens' Enabling Act is likely to continue for a couple of weeks. It is not believed possible to agree upon any territorial bill for the Southern States that will command the two-third vote required to pass any such over a certain veto.

Wm. Orton was before the Senate Finance Committee yesterday, and vindicated the Western Union Telegraph from any violation of the contract with Government in connecting with the California lines. He added: If Congress did not pay the annual subsidy the company ought to be allowed pay for Government business, as the company had been loser by the present system.

The Maryland Senatorship is still unsettled by the persistence of the Eastern Shore members, who insist that the Senator shall be taken from that section, according to law, and unless the law was repealed Swann cannot be elected.

The New Jersey Legislative caucus nominated Frelinghuysen Senator by 25 votes; there were 19 votes for Geo. T. Cobb.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the Virginia Union.]

San Francisco, January 11.

The following dispatch appears in this evening's Bulletin:

"New York, Jan. 11, 1867.—Our relations with the Western Associated Press are restored on satisfactory terms. This Association retains the exclusive control west of the Rocky Mountains—Craig is, in no sense, a party to the treaty. (Signed,)

J. W. SIMONTON."

The petition prepared by Theresa Cassein, better known by her former theatrical appellation of Mrs. L. F. Beatty, or Clara Dean, for a divorce from her husband, Patrick Cassein, came up yesterday in the Fifteenth District Court. On hearing the case, Judge Dwinelle refused her suit, but granted [illegible] the counter petition of the husband [illegible] and separated him from the woman [illegible].

The [illegible] subscription for the relief of sufferers by the inundation in France amounted to the sum of $4,016, and a draft for that sum was sent to Paris by yesterday's steamer.

The Bank of California has declared its usual monthly dividend of one per cent. for December, aggregating $50,000. The National Insurance Company has declared a dividend of one per cent. on the capital stock for the quarter ending January 31, payable on and after February 1st.

THE IDAHO LEGISLATURE.—If we are to judge of the morals of this body by the accounts given of it in the Idaho papers, sobriety and respectability are at a fearful discount among its members. The Idaho City Times says of them:

It is confidently asserted that each member had a jug under or about his desk, and we hope they will have it all drank up and be ready for sober legislation by the time the holidays are over. They do not feel at present inclined to indorse Johnson or Yamhill, or anybody else; neither do they manifest any desire to be guided by the late elections in the North. It is stated that the people of Boise City want the capital removed, as they object to any such carryings on in their midst. They certainly did not expect that we were going to have that Boise county delegation in this town all winter.

STAGE ROBBERY.—On Saturday, January 5th, within four miles of Copperopolis, the Murphy's stage, on Sisson's line, was stopped by "road agents" and relieved of some $300 of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s money. The passengers were compelled to get out of the stage, as it was the intention of the robbers at first to blow open the safe with powder. The driver prevailed upon them, however, not to destroy the vehicle, and they accordingly broke the safe open whith hammer and chisel. The rascals are said to be well known in that vicinity, and officers are after them.—Sacramento Union.

INDECENT HASTE.—The St. Joseph Union says: "Scarcely had the electric wires conveyed the intelligence of the death of General Curtis to Washington, when the wires answered back that Frank Blair had been appointed to fill the vacancy in the Board of Commissioners." It is a great pity that a decent man, or an honest politician, could not be selected by the President to fill the place so honorably occupied by the late lamented General Curtis.

MENKEN has just had a baby, in Paris. A certain Mr. Barclay is Menken's present husband.

THE United States Minister to Brazil, Gen. James Watson Webb, was seriously ill at Petropolis, near Rio Janeiro, on the 25th of November.

A DEEP COAL MINE.—It is announced that the deepest coal mine in the world is situated at Montwearmouth, England. The workings are 1,900 feet below the surface, and extend for two miles under ground. At the bottom of the shaft the heat ranges from 80 to 90 degrees Fahrenheit.

THE coal fields of America cover 225,000 square miles, an area equal to twenty-eight such States as Massachusetts. One cubic mile will furnish seven millions of tons for a thousand years. At this rate our coal will last sixty thousand years.

THE Western Union Telegraph Company has, through the House committee on Post-offices, tendered the Government the use of one of its wires to test the experiment of a government telegraphic system.

A sergeant belonging to the 19th regulars, stationed at Fort Snelling, Minnesota, has deserted and eloped with a young lady of Minneapolis, who left her home with $700 of stolen money in her possession.

The Idaho Legislature are up in arms because Secretary Howlett withholds the pay of members who have not taken the oath of allegiance.

The Legislature has passed an act to revise the old city charter of Boise City, and ordered an election of officers on the third Monday of this month.

On the bill to investigate the affairs of the Territorial Secretary, Mr. Abbott spoke as follows:

"This Legislature, nor any committee it may appoint, has no right whatever to investigate the office or the affairs of the Secretary, and if I were the Secretary, I would defy and resist any attempts of your committee or your sergeant-at-arms to do so. He is an officer of the Government, over whom we have no control, and you, therefore, have no right to attempt any such thing. This Legislature has no more right to investigate the matters and books of the Secretary or the Governor than you have to investigate mine or those of any other private individual. You may laugh at this proposition, but, sir, these are truths, and you will find them out. This whole thing is gotten up for the benefit of a few men, and I know it."

The House has sustained the Governor's veto on the bill establishing Catholic schools. Much excitement prevailed on the occasion, the lobby being filled with spectators, who cheered the members for the course they pursued.

The Statesman, of the 12th, says:

About the most terrific explosion ever witnessed in Idaho Territory occurred last evening in the Legislature, on the reception of the following communication from Secretary Howlett, from Washington, dated December 29th; received Dec. 29th, 1866—P. M.:

S. R. Howlett, Secretary, Boise City, Idaho, via Virginia City, M. T.:

Don't pay or certify to members until they have taken the oath required by law. Await further instructions from this or the State Department.

H. McCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Secretary's Office, I. T.

I hereby certify the above to be a true copy of the original now in this office.

S. R. HOWLETT, Secretary.

Boise City, January 11th, 1867.

The indignation of the Honorable gentlemen was absolutely uncontrollable for some time, and most of them were totally unable to express themselves in terms sufficiently indignant. The reading of the communication was interrupted in the House for some minutes, and propositions suggested to send for Secretary Howlett and bring him bodily before the House. Finally a joint convention was agreed upon. Most other business being disposed of, the members of the Council met with the House, and adopted a resolution to dispatch the Sergeant-at-arms of both houses after Mr. Howlett and bring him before the convention. Suggestions were made that the Legislature had no right to send for the Secretary of the Territory, but they were not entertained for a moment. A more excited crowd of men was seldom seen. Disorder and confusion prevailed to such a degree that it was difficult for members or speaker to be heard. The opinion which seemed most to prevail among the members was that the dispatch was bogus. The wish that it was so was probably parent to the thought. The hall after a while became quiet, and Mr. Howlett came in, attended by the Sergeant-at-arms of both houses.

After this follows a lengthy examination of Mr. Howlett, which resulted in nothing more than that he was acting in obedience to the directions of Secretary McCulloch.

The Supreme Court of Idaho will be in session next Monday with a full bench. It was adjourned over from last Monday, to give the District time to finish the business of the term.

A Mr. James Fowler was shot dead in Mr. Cody's saloon in this city, says the Idaho World, about 9 o'clock on the 1st inst., by Stephen Maloney, the barkeeper. The statement of Maloney was taken, which was corroborated by all the witnesses, and was to the effect that Maloney tried to avoid the difficulty. Justice Turner, therefore, felt himself obliged to pronounce it a case of justifiable homicide, and Maloney was accordingly discharged.

The deceased received the fatal wound just below the left cheek bone on the side of his face, and the ball lodged in the front part of the right lobe of the brain. He was a native of New Jersey, was about 33 years old, and had lately come from Owyhee.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, to which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Central Territories.

PAHRANAGAT MINES.—Messrs. Crippen and Raymond arrived on Thursday from the Pahranagat mines, where the former has been for some time engaged in scientific explorations and the testing of ores. The latter, as the representative of eastern capitalists, has invested largely. Mr. Ely accompanied the party, he having sold out his interest for $55,000, and will at once proceed East. The specimens he takes with him bear indications of the richness of precious ores which abound in those regions. The bulk of the ore destined for the eastern market, has been shipped by the way of Austin and San Francisco. These gentlemen say that the results far exceed their most sanguine expectations. On the other side, we learn that Dr. Conger is not so sanguine, his operations not being so successful as the others, but it was in consequence of the failure in his smelting operations, he having not been engaged in the pursuit of mining. There is sufficient evidence, however, that next spring there will be an extensive emmigration to Pahranagat, and the mines throughout Utah. The Buel mill at Hot Creek is said to be turning out at present $18,000 of the precious metal per month.

THE WEATHER.—We had made up our mind on several occasions never to comment on the weather, as it almost invariably happens that we experience a sudden change immediately afterwards, but when we are treated with such bright sunshiny weather as it was our privilege to enjoy for the last few days, we could not refrain. Yet out of pure spite the clerk, who is supposed to attend to those matters, sent us yesterday snow, sleet, mud and all the disagreeable accompaniments of a stormy winters day. We hope this announcement when it greets his eye—for he surely reads the VEDETTE—may find him so obstinate as to give us an immediate change for the better.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We were shown, yesterday, the plan for the new building about being erected by Wells, Fargo & Co. on Third South street, between what is known as Brigham and Theatre streets, (called, we believe, between Temple and First South Temple streets). These buildings are intended for the use of the express company. The building contains the coal, iron, lumber, wood, horses, harness, paint and blacksmith-shops is to be 180 feet by 26 feet. The stables adjoining are to be 80 feet by 34 feet. The erection of these buildings will add much to the value of property in that portion of the city.

RETURNED.—Mr. Carter, of Marshall & Carter's law firm, returned on Thursday from Ogden, where he has been engaged in the defense of four persons accused of grand larceny, having charged with driving off stock. The case was one that elicited considerable interest, and at one time during the trial was quite exciting. Mr. Carter succeeded in clearing three of his clients. One of them named Williamson, was detained for further examination. Mr. Carter expresses confidence in acquiring the fourth, as he believes them all innocent.

MILWAUKEE SENTINEL.—With the commencement of the year 1867 this valuable exchange comes to us in an enlarged and improved form. Few papers west of New York equal it in enterprise and editorial ability, and this additional proof of its prosperity will be viewed with pleasure by its very numerous readers, in all sections of the country.

UNCERTAIN.—The election of Governor Cox to the United States Senate from Maryland is still uncertain. The difficulty seems to be in relation to the section of the State which is entitled by law to representation in the Senate.

TERRITORIES.—Dispatches say that the debate on the bill establishing the Southern Territories will be debated in Congress for two weeks to come, and there is no probability to secure a two-third vote over a veto, which is needed for as certain.

THE NEW MINISTER.—Our telegraphic dispatches say that David Dudley Field will be appointed Minister to France, and that Adams will return as a member of the Cabinet.

NOMINATED.—The New Jersey Legislature have nominated Mr. Frelinghuysen for the United States Senate by a vote of 25 against Mr Cobb.

Arrivals and Departures.

From the South—J. B. Griffin, W. H. Raymond, John W. Ely, O. H. Conger.
From the North—David Frazier, F. King, Mr. Granger.
For the West—Manuel Lopez.

WHAT NEVADA PRODUCED LAST YEAR.—In the Gold Hill News, of the 10th, is published a very interesting item on the bullion yield of Nevada for 1866, from which we collate the following:

There were shipped by Wells, Fargo & Co. from their various offices in the State—From Virginia City, $7,807,626 18; Gold Hill, $7,-268 00; Carson City, $341,366 80; Reese River, $400,587 00; Aurora, $171,534; total, $821,379 98. The News says $350,000 more is shipped by others than Wells, Fargo & Co., which we think rather low. Allowing 7½ per cent. of the total yield of bullion carried from Nevada by private parties, (which we think is not too high,) it would give us a grand total of (about) $17,-283 40 for one year's shipment. The official statements give, as the sum total of the shipments for the last two years by Wells, Fargo & Co.—1865, $12,833,719 83; 1866, $4,907,894 18. This, we think, will go far to show that the Comstock has lost nothing in prestige.—Virginia Union, 11th.

The following is a special dispatch from the Missouri Democrat:

St. Joseph, December 29.

Mr. W. R. Hamill, of Atchison, and connected with the Union Pacific Railroad, was killed to death by the cars at the workshop here before yesterday. He had come to this side of the river to superintend the crossing of cars for the Pacific road, and while coupling them on the Platte Country road he lost his footing and was crushed so severely that he expired almost instantly.

The time between Omaha and Salt Lake is now only eight days. Three of them are occupied in the trip from Omaha to Denver, and the remaining five days from that point to Salt Lake City. In this eight days' travel there are three hundred miles by railroad and nine hundred by stage. Total distance twelve hundred miles.
